Proposal 2

iMentorU foundation

iMentorU Foundation (South Africa): A registered non-profit dedicated to youth development through one-on-one and group mentorship. They help with educational research, exam preparation, and career reading.

Their vision of is to create a place where every individual especially children and youth, regardless of their background to have access to opportunities that allow them to their full potential and contribute positively to different communities.

Mission statement

Provide opportunities to all youth, regardless of their social economic standing.

Ensuring young people have the resources and support needed to reach their highest personal and professional capabilities. The foundation also aims to become a leading positive organization specifically targeting underprivileged youth.

vision

Assisting with research, assignments, and higher education applications. Guiding students through one-on-one and group relationships to bridge the gap between education and career readiness. Offering programs in public speaking, digital literacy, and web design.

Strengths

They provide a wide range of services including educational support , STEAM programs , and career mentorship. Their programs target a broad age group (8 to 35 years) and specifically include underprivileged youth, creative individuals, and those living with disabilities. They maintain a strong local presence, such as their collaboration with City of Tshwane Libraries to provide skills training in Pretoria.

Goal

Their goal is to provide opportunities to all the youth regardless of their social economic standing. They want to ensure that young are provided with all the resources to reach the personal and professional capabilities.

Potential Weaknesses & Challenges

Like many non-profits (NPOs), they rely heavily on external funding, resources, and volunteers from businesses and individuals to sustain their programs. While they aim for global influence and have established branches in countries like Mozambique, Uganda, and Kenya, maintaining consistent quality across diverse international regions can be an operational challenge.

Design and user experience

1. Colour Scheme

- A mix of Navy Blue (professionalism) and Orange (creativity, and youth).

- Primarily White or light gray, which allows the colourful touches and program icons to stand out clearly.

2. Typography

- It typically uses clean, sans-serif typefaces for headings and body text. This choice feels modern and accessible to its target youth demographic (ages 8–35).

3. Layout and Design

- The home page is divided into clear sections About, Programs, and Contact.
- Custom icons are used to represent different services, such as a laptop for Digital Literacy or a gear for STEAM education, which aids in quick visual navigation.

4. User Experience (UX) Considerations

- "Join Us" or "Register" buttons are placed in areas, allowing an easy applications for new volunteers or students.
